

AT OUR ALTITUDE,
golf balls go farther.

NOT SURPRISINGLY, SO DO MEETINGS.

It's easier to decide where to hold your meeting when you know there's a great golf course nearby. But what if your meeting could be surrounded by a number of the country's most celebrated and diverse golf courses? Add to that an almost perfect climate for unique dining and shopping experiences, and you have a meeting location that simply can't be found anywhere else. Large and small meetings from all over the world enjoy our friendly atmosphere and hospitable charm made from a unique blend of Western, Hispanic, and Native American cultures. The reason many organizations set attendance records here is simple: a meeting in Albuquerque is absolutely like no other meeting. Contact the CVB to find out more about our 16,000 hotel rooms and the SMG-managed Albuquerque Convention Center.
